To All My Beloved Patients,

I'm writing to you today to inform you that after 28 years of service to the Manchester Community, I've decided to leave clinical practice at the OBGYN Group of Eastern Connecticut.

Being a healthcare provider today is demanding and takes a high level of commitment of time and effort. I've spent my entire life trying to provide the best care possible to you. All of you have taught me new things each day that constantly modified my approach. I've viewed my career more as a lifestyle and a calling than just a job. I've looked at the long hours spent as opportunities to do good work.

I very much appreciate and respect the trust you have given me to care for your health needs. I thank you for allowing me to be present to care for you during both very difficult and joyous times in your lives. I've enjoyed our yearly visits during which time I have gotten to hear how you and your growing families are doing. It has been a joy to watch the babies I've delivered grow into productive adults.

The OBGYN Group of Eastern Connecticut will continue to provide you with the highest quality of women's healthcare available. I leave the group in the very capable hands of Doctors Michaels-Bogdan, Grieco, Graceffa, and Riddle. We also have four APRNs Josie Dumond, Molly Brown, Brianna Owen and Melissa Bartolotta that can serve your "in office" needs. Our obstetrics services have been enhanced with outstanding midwifery care provided by Alexis Warren, Jessica Bridge, and Kathleen Hazel who also provide in office gynecologic care. I encourage you to schedule your next appointment with one of them.

I will definitely miss each and every one of you. I am confident that the group will carry on my legacy of personal care going forward in the future. I thank you again for allowing me to be your physician through the years.

Respectfully,

Martin J. Hancock, M.D.
